Profile

I am an experienced and innovative guy with a creative mind and a passion for art and design. Adaptable and able to use my own initiative. I am a great team player, yet able to work independently to deliver goals. Consistently introducing new and fresh ideas in the work place.

Current role

I currently work at Oakhouse foods, where I produce a cornucopia of artwork for print. I produce brochures, packaging, flyers, poster etc. I am great at generating concepts for campaigns and direct mailings. I am fluent in all the relevant design packages. I also design and code HTML emailers and support the web design with images and flash content.

I have extensive knowledge of dealing with external printers.

Interesting stuff

As part of my artistic self-employment I have exhibited work in Soho and in Bristol. I am currently in the process of publishing a book containing 500 of my own inventions.

My interests

I am a keen amateur photographer, a jazz pianist for a successful band, a rock climber with two injuries and I enjoy watching intelligent cinema. I love to cook and eat good food, especially seasonal British ingredients.

I like to read non-fiction, a favourite book of mine is Stephen Hawking 'A Brief History of Time' although I still struggle with some aspects of quantum physics.
